THE NEWS.

The Secretary of the Treasury has published a notice extending the time of the purchaser of U. S. Stocks to the 1st of January next.—— The total amount in the U. S. Treasury on the 29th November subject to draft was $24,461,-238.—— The Ohio and Chesapeake Canal will close about the middle of the month.—— Great excitement prevailed in New York and Brooklyn on Wednesday evening on account of the arrival of John Mitchell, the Irish Patriot.—— Speeches, were made, champagne drank and bonfires made.—— Yankee Sullivan is again in the hands of the Sheriff of Winchester, who claims him for having broken his parole of honor not to fight, given to the State a few years since when under sentence for the affair of Lilly and McCoy.—— The Salt Lake Mail which arrived at Independence on the 26th brings news of a massacre on the plains, of Capt. Gunnison and his enginering expedition.—— At home everything is very quiet. Yesterday was one of those dull, sunless, and despiriting days when rogues plot deeds of darkness and honest men feel inclined to commit suicide. We believe however our citizens resisted the temptation.

A CHEAP LIFE.

Our readers may remember that on the 23d of August last, a brutal and aggravated murder was committed in the city of Rockford, by one William Moore, son of Mr. G. S. Moore, the landlord of the American House in that city, and a young man aged twenty years, upon the body of an Irishman named Terence Donovan. The circumstances attending the murder were of the most outrageous character—the murderer going toward his victim with a heavy club in his hand, swearing that he would show the bystanders how to kill an Irishman, and that he would "knock the damned Irishman's head open." He went behind him and struck him on the back of the head, struck him again while falling, and a third time when he had fallen to the ground.—His victim having died from his injuries, his murderer was brought to a trial charged with a crime for which the penalty is death. After a long and patient trial, in which the murder was fully brought home with irresistible force against the prisoner,—indeed, the crime having been committed in broad daylight, and in the view of several other men, there could be no doubt about the matter,—the jury retired, and soon brought in a verdict of guilty of—manslaughter, and sentencing the prisoner to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary, six days of which are to be in solitary confinement!

During the last month our Recorder has sentenced one convicted of the crime of stealing a pair of boots, a few dollars, or a suit of clothes, to terms in the penitentiary of from two to ten years, and for crimes of greater magnitude, in one case, to a term of twenty-seven years, but the Jury of the county of Winnebago sentence a man who was guilty of a foul murder to an imprisonment of twelve months.

As might reasonably be expected, the citizens of Rockford are full of indignation at such unparalleled injustice, and on Monday evening last held an indignation meeting, which was largely attended, and at which they passed a series of resolutions condemning the verdict as a "bar league upon the courts of justice, an outrage upon the people, and a disgrace to their country," denouncing the jury for "being reckless of their high responsibilities of consequence, and as having allowed their sympathies and tears to drown their judgments, and obscure their reason."

PROGRESSIVE.

We claim this to be an age of progression—There are some who get so bewildered among the many parties and isms of the present day, that they are disposed to deny that the term "progressive" can properly be applied to us as a nation. For the express benefit of such men, the wheel should occasionally be re-versed, and some great landmark of the past should be specifically pointed out to them, and they should be forced to manifest himself to men by 'signs' 'marks' 'tokens,' 'wonders,' 'portents,' 'presages,' 'lying wonders,' 'clouds,' 'dreadful,' 'wicked.' These are among the devil's powers to work false 'signs,' or 'marks,' or 'tokens,' or 'wonders,' to deceive men and lead them to embrace his doctrines! Are the table rappings among his doctrines or 'signs?' We profess not to know. But the thought is certainly worth consideration. Certain we are that, if there be any spiritual influences at work in these developments, Satan is their author."

The "Devil," too, is busy among the "temperance fanatics," the "Woman's Rights mandarins," the "Bible Conventions," and all other reformatory processes of the time.

Backed by all manner of infidelity, pretending to have for their object, nothing less than to overthrow the power of the Christian religion, and to substitute in its stead the "religion of humanity," they are at work in every direction, and with a zeal worthy a better cause. Their efforts are directed to the cause of philanthropy and the Bible, while, alas, it carries a drawn sword, which is ever piercing the very heart of Christianity! Away with such spurious blurs, blemishes, dead sees, rottenness, on the great body of humanity! Behold that great Bible Convention, which sent forth its loud beatings, see your Lucretia mounting the rostrum and wrangling for their own notoriety; and your shaved dandy and dandyizing masculine philanthropists, raising a great hue and cry over ignorance and "humanity," and all manner of hair-brained doctrines and speculations, arising out of 'spirit rappings,' 'clairvoyancy, &c., and say, it is for the love of Christ! Such is for the good of the great bleeding heart of humanity! Is it for the love of souls! Glorious nineteenth century that we have been so much favored! Oh! that we as men and women puffed up with their petty importance, speaking great swelling words, and wrangling over nothing but a lame and silly effort to give themselves notoriety, which only serves to attain unto otherwise than by rendering themselves contemptible and ridiculous, pardon us, if we see herein a fulfillment of Scripture!

This churchman's liver is very much deranged. We prescribe a blue mass pill at bed time, and if it were combined with two grains of calomel it might be more efficient in ridding him of the Devil.

OUR COUNTRY.

The Rev. Mr. Cuyler, of New York, closed a Sermon on Thanksgiving Day, with the following eloquent passage. Would to G-d every American would lay it to heart.

Our forefathers in the days of the revolutionary struggle were wont to sing a national air them, somewhat ambitious in its longings, but arousing the heart like the sound of a trumpet. It commenced with the line,

"Columbia! Columbia! to glory rise,
The queen of the earth and the child of the skies!"

This is a high sounding aspiration! But if our spacious and beloved land only would be faithful to its Redeemer, it would but expand her lust for gain, and would subordinate selfishness to a pear philanthropy; if she would but break her fetters and demolish the rest-houses which now disgrace her soil; if she would be the children; if she would but place God's law of holiness so her great code book in purple places, and as the guilds of every private life; if she would do this then indeed might she assume the queenliest place on earth and claim a celestial lineage. For God hath not dealt so with any other nation. And now, as Christian patriots, let us all join in one united petition for the land of our love." Oh! Thou Jehovah God! who didst lead forth our fathers like a flock, and who didst make of them a great people! Remember our holy and our honorable beginnings in days of old! Fill our land with Thy light, until the glory of Christ shall break out upon the Western sea, till the uttermost parts of our heritage shall see the full salvation of God." Amen.

☞ Mrs. Florence is really one of the most clever actresses we have ever seen. On Wednesday evening she convulsed the audience as an Irish girl, and when she came to the footlights as a Dutch woman, and to the consternation of her hand engaged an English song in a Dutch tune and to Dutch time, the effect was "immense." We advise our friend "Hackett," who sat opposite us, during the Scene to keep away from the Theatre during her engagement, for if he does not Coroner Schuth will "write a sworn note," will certainly sit upon his body, and return a verdict—"died from sudden and protracted excitement of the risibles."—Cleveland Herald.

DISGRACE.—We learn that the schooner Gen. Capt. Johnson, was dismasted night before last off Lake Ontario. The captain and crew left the vessel early this morning, and arrived here in the small boat before noon. The Gem has a cargo of flour and wheat for this port.—Oswego Times, 25th.

STRIKES IN CINCINNATI—DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT.

The journeymen Printers of Cincinnati who belong to the "Union" in that city have made a strike, and are carrying on affairs with a high hand.

The strike was not caused by an attempt to lower the price paid to journeymen, nor merely by a refusal in the part of publishers, to pay the advanced rate required by the journeymen, but it resulted from a very similar cause to that which caused the strike in our own office, a few months ago. The Journeymen wished to take exclusive management of the Composing Room, the Press Room, and the Editorial Chairs. The Gazette of 26th inst, says:

Accordingly, when Mr. Robinson of the Republican on that day sent up to his journeymen an article on the "strike," which contained sentiments that did not meet with their approbation, they coolly sent down word that they would not set it up; and they didn't! The situation in which Mr. Robinson now finds himself, with a heavy legal advertisement on hand which must appear on a certain day, compelled him to retract it to this indignity, otherwise, we are certain that every man in his office would have been informed that his services were no longer required.

The next movement of the strikers was not made until the dead hour of night, and was of a character not at all calculated to enlist the sympathies of the public in the case of the obscure newspapers aforesaid, appear to be so very much excited. This movement was the cutting of the rope by which the "forms" of the newspapers printed on this office—are lowered to the press-room. By this act, the "form" of the "Columbian" newspaper was precipitated from the 5th or sixth story of our building—to our engine-room, breaking through the floor of the press-room on its way, crushing two inch planks, breaking pieces of timber four inches square, and putting the lives of several persons in jeopardy. We can, by a mere discription, give the reader but a vague idea of the great force accumulated by this solid mass of metal in its descent from so great a height; it requires a sight of the ruins it made to fully appreciate the danger escaped by the persons at work in the press and engine rooms at the time. Our engineer had left the spot where the "form" fell but a few moments before, otherwise he must have been instantly killed. Our carriers, too, at that hour of the morning, are generally assistered about the establishment, and it was the merest chance which prevented some of them from loosing their lives.

To find the objects of the person who cut the rope—who we suspect, is one of the "striking" hands of the Columbian, was to prevent the Columbian from appearing on Saturday by knocking its form into "pi." But this attempt was happily and most extraordinarily frustrated. Whenever before did a form fall five stories without starting a single type!

To find the objects of the person who cut the rope—who we suspect, is one of the "striking" hands of the Columbian, was to prevent the Columbian from appearing on Saturday by knocking its form into "pi." But this attempt was happily and most extraordinarily frustrated. Whenever before did a form fall five stories without starting a single type!

Soon after the men tardily performance had concluded another began, and the "strikers" undertook to rob our carriers of their papers, or to prevent them by violence from distributing them. Both of these efforts were broke up by the police, and we are happy to say that the carriers—generally speaking—succeeded in delivering their papers.

Such acts as here described can have but one effect. They must recoil with terrible effect upon their foolish and wicked perpetrations. Already have the strikers of Cincinnati found this to be the case. They have done no one but themselves any injury. No paper in the city has ceased, for a day even, its regular issue; the publishers are filling up their supposing rooms with other men or with women; and the strikers will have the satisfaction of reflecting that they have thrown themselves out of lucrative and honorable employment by an insane attempt to interfere with and control affairs in which they had not the slightest right to meddle.

To Correspondents.—Several communications which were received on yesterday, are necessarily deferred until to-morrow

GIVING THE DEVIL HIS DUE.

The Churchman, a religious paper of New York, discoursing on the Devil, says that he is not a mere fictitious impersonation of a principle of evil, but a personal being, the chief of the fallen angels and the great disturber of the peace of this world, causing all the murders, robberies, riots, uprisings and wars that ever rose and shape with which the press of the country teems. He then goes on to rap the Rappers after this fashion:

"Satan is to be the prime mover and worker in this undertaking 'with all the power and and lying wonders.' Satan then has 'power' to work 'signs' and 'lying wonders'—power to manifest himself to men by 'signs' 'marks' 'tokens,' 'wonders,' 'portents,' 'presages,' 'lying wonders,' 'clouds,' 'dreadful,' 'wicked.' These are among the devil's powers to work false 'signs,' or 'marks,' or 'tokens,' or 'wonders,' to deceive men and lead them to embrace his doctrines! Are the table rappings among his doctrines or 'signs?' We profess not to know. But the thought is certainly worth consideration. Certain we are that, if there be any spiritual influences at work in these developments, Satan is their author."

The "Devil," too, is busy among the "temperance fanatics," the "Woman's Rights mandarins," the "Bible Conventions," and all other reformatory processes of the time.

THE PRICE OF BLOOD IS UP.

From the Morning News.

Blood is at last a marketable commodity, and has its price fixed in St. Louis. The case of Jos. Rouser, who went armed and prepared to shoot at Biddle Market last spring, tried to make his way in without paying, and whose comrade made threats at the door against the managers of the ball, who in due time got into an altercation in the ball room, and retreated from the room, and having reached a place of safety, to wit: egress from the room, turned and fired his daily prepared pistol back upon the crowd, in the dancing room, and killed a young woman, Mary Schubart, who was then and there murdered foray upon a peaceable dancing party, and its bloody and fatal results—this man is tried and convicted of murder in the third degree, and her wages, and others damaged trade to the extent of $500. Let him square up the bill of dollars—not up the bill of wages stopped, and he will be square with his hand purged of the "damned spot" and his conscience of the "perilous stuff" that remind the owner of—murder!

The case of John Rouser fixes the standard of prices, and all cases of human life may be easily estimated at a corresponding value. For instance a small girl, that can earn $4 a month, may be killed for $250. One that can earn $1 a week for half price.

Any man who has a passion for human blood, and shows the sense by wearing deadly weapons, and premeditated intentions to have it goes, whether into his brothers workshop, or into his neighbor's family circle, or into the merry dancing room of young men and maidens—has the way clear before him now, and can count over his money and freely "let himself in." If he be good at arithmatic he can kill without danger of "overstaking his pile." Money and blood is convertible articles—the blood of each one of us, fellow sittizens, has its price in dollars and cents, as truly as does the carcasses of any beef that lay this morning on the market block.

But enough—the tragedy is played out and the curtain falls. It only remains that the St. Louis Evening News be mulcted in the sum of $12,000 damages, for characterizing this affair from beginning to end as we have done. When this is accomplished—when the press almost the only palladium of liberty from murder and violence, is reprimed—then blood will be cheap or; and a new Price Current of human blood may be got out. We dare say that lives thereafter may be as at half price.

As the victim in this case was only a poor, friendless German girl—it was almost hopeless to think that her blood would be required at Reuver's hands. The fashionable doctrine now in St. Louis freely taught is that the lives of Germans are a despised class—the foreign dregs of our society—whose rights are valueless and whose blood is worth nothing. We have opposed this heartless and unchristian doctrine, with but poor success. The Germans are therefore driven, in self defence, to defy the law and shoot life. We suppose they will henceforth go armed to the teeth, to their balls, and defend the same by bowie, dirks, slungshots and pistols. This is what we would do if we were Germans. If human blood flows in consequence of the struggle, the future historian of this desolated city, drunk with civil discord and human blood, can easily trace back the record, and lay the guilt at the proper door.

Part of Mary Schubart! She sleeps the first martyr in a terrible cause. Her blood is washed out with gold, and her pale form comes only in the shape of a ghost to haunt the murderer on her death." But her blood "cries from out the ground," as did Abel's of old, and there is the same God in Heaven to hear and avenge her blood, that did hear and avenge that of Abel. So, to the last, great Tribunal, we refer her cause.

From the N. Y. Herald.

ROBBERY OF THE BANK OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

Arrest of the Robber in this City—$23,000 of the Stolen Money Recovered.

It will be recollected that about three weeks since a robbery, amounting to $27,410 in bills of the Bank of the State of New York, was stolen from that establishment, during the day time, and many were the surmises at the time as to who was the perpetrator of the daring act.

The officers of police have been on the alert ever since the robbery, and a few days ago we learned the arrest of two men at Toledo, Ohio, charged with having committed the robbery in question, corresponding to those taken from the bank.

Yesterday afternoon, however the police of this city was much more successful than of Toledo. Officer Dilks, one of the Chief's special aids met with a well known thief, called Chauncey Johnson, in a public house in Broadway, and immediately arrested him. Johnson, finding that the matter—knowing him to be an expert at such robberies—took him on one side, and taxed him directly with the crime. The thief, after a short consultation with his counsel, in Toledo, suspected that the officer was possessed of accurate information as to the guilty parties, became alarmed, and intimated a bribe to the officer to let him go.

The officer at first pretended to accede to the proposition, when Johnson acknowledged that the money—about eighteen thousand dollars—was concealed below the horse's belly, and after seizing the piece, suddenly threw themselves into the saddle. The form the choicest body of cavalry in the Turkish service, and when charging, they attack their opponents with a valor in each hand, managing their reins with their mouth, they will spring out of their saddles, take him and fire from behind their horses into their saddles again, and wheel round and re-load their guns as they retreat in full career. They are perfect madmen in the attack and few troops could withstand the utter recklessness of danger they evince.

INTERESTING FROM TEXAS.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29

New Orleans papers of Monday last are received. They contain Galveston dates of the 17th, announcing the organization of the Legislature and the delivery of Gov. Bell's Message, which is largely devoted to the subject of the Pacific Railroad. The Governor recommends the El Paso route.

The system of military defence at the frontier is complained of, and the action of the Legislature is invoked in the matter.

Yellow fever was still lingering at Galveston and Houston.

A letter from El Paso, dated 27th Oct., states that the Indians had attacked a company of Americans, and stolen five hundred head of horses and mules, together with a lot of blankets, clothing &c.

Depredations by the Indians are of daily occurrence. They even venture within a few hundred yards of the fort occupied by the U. S. troops.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Fire.

The brick building on the corner of Market and Washington streets, occupied by Nugent & Owens as a Brass Foundry, was burned this morning as we were going to press.—The building adjoining occupied as a dwelling was badly damaged.

MEETING OF THE TUNNEL COMMITTEE.

At a special meeting of the Tunnel Committee assembled at the Court House on Tuesday evening, 29th of Nov.

Present—Hon. B. S. Morris, Chairman, W. H. Stickney, Secretary. On the call of the Committee fourteen members answered to their names.

Walter L. Newberry, Esq., addressed the Committee and offered the following resolution:

That a Committee be appointed to draft a report, embracing the substance of the following propositions as the conclusion of this Committee.

That this Committee concur with Mr. Gooding in the opinion that a Tunnel can be constructed upon the plans submitted by him, which fully observe the purpose for which it is designed, and that the cost will not exceed the estimates for the respective plans submitted by him.

That of the three plans submitted, this Committee would give the preference to the plan designated as No. 2, the estimated cost of which is about $180,000.

That with the information now before them this committee are of the opinion that more favorable circumstances combine in favor of a Tunnel on State street than upon any other street in the city.

If other eminent engineers to be hereafter consulted shall concur in the practicability of the above plan, this Committe recommend that whatever the 1st day of May, 1854, a sale can be made for the required sum of the 7 per cent bonds of the city, having 20 years to run so that such bonds shall nett to the City Treasury not less than their par value over and above any charges or commissions for negotiating, that then the Common Council shall proceed to take the necessary steps to construct a Tunnel on plans already provided the right of way can be procured without expense to the city, and provided, further, that a majority of all the Aldermen elected to the Common Council for the time being, shall be in favor of the same.

Wm. H. Stickney moved to amend the proposition of Mr. Newberry (in order to ascertain the views of the Committee) by substituting the following:

This Committee have become satisfied that a Tunnel under the Chicago River, is not only altogether practicable, but will be constructed at no distant day, either by the city or by private enterprise; but not having been able to arrive at such unanimity in the selection of a plan from those proposed, and from respect to the various opinions thereon; together with a contrariety of opinion as to the propriety of the city assuming additional debt at the present time, We recommend that said project be offered to the private enterprise of one or more companies, under such terms as will secure to the city the right, at a specified time, to purchase and become the owners thereof.

Thomas Dyer, S. J. Sherwood, Philo Carpenter, John Van Horn, and several other gentlemen addressed the committee in a spirited and instructive debate on the above propositions, when on motion it was carried, that the said proposition be laid on the table and made the order for public discussion on this evening two weeks, and publication be made thereof in the newspapers of the city.

On motion, the sub-committee heretofore appointed to confer with Mr. Gooding, were requested to consider and report to the next meeting on all plans heretofore (and hereafter previous to the next meeting,) submitted or communicated to the committee.

Mr. Carpenter suggested an inquiry as to the greater facility of tunnelling the South Branch.

On motion of Alderman McDonnell, it was moved and carried, that the sub-committee be requested to send a copy of the bill now before Chicago River taken for Mr. Gooding, to Robt. Stephenson, C. E., at Montreal, for his opinion as to the best plan for a Tunnel.

On motion, adjourned, to meet in the Council Chamber, on Tuesday evening, the 13th day of December next, at 7 o'clock, for the public discussion of the aforementioned propositions, &c.

B. S. MORRIS, Chairman.
W. H. STICKNEY, Secretary.

CHICAGO JUSTICE.

EDITORS TRIBUNE:—The gross and flagrant outrage upon the property and person of Ira B. Eddy has at last reached its finale.

By the manly decision of Judge J. M. Wilson, his rights so cruelly taken and so long retained have at length been restored. Calmly relying upon the goodness, justice and power of God, the Ruler of all hearts, with a patience and meekness unparalled such outrages as would have made a wreck of stiter minds, and but for his trust in Providence, would have destroyed an intellect that shall yet make itself known and felt in this City and the World.

That an outraged public may appreciate the reality of that friendship and brotherly love which animated the Conservator, (who is the only one who has acted,) it is but necessary for me to state, that he has charged nearly one thousand dollars for his services, and about half that sum for seeing his brother as a wolf would a lamb, and dragging him off to a far distant Insane Asylum, and placing him there under instructions to the Superintendent not to permit a friend to see him, where he would have remained till dooms day, had not friends who stick closer than a brother brought him forth upon a writ of Habeas Corpus.

Yours for the right, SETH PAINE.
Chicago, Dec. 1, 1853.

MARKET STREET BUILDING.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—

Four months since a petition was laid before the Common Council of the city of Chicago, for the erection of a suitable building on Market street for market purposes. That petition was passed over to a committee, and nothing more is heard of it. We are compelled daily to visit this old shed, for that is the best appellation we can give it, and from under its rotting, worm-eaten roof in the midst of the loathsomness that invariably accompanies decay, select the choice morsel for the dinner table.

If it is desired by the Council to keep this old building as a monument of what we were, why do they not purchase a lot and build a "monument" of what we are, and let this rookery stand inhabited only by bats and rats? Who looks to our interest? The emptiness of council reports on this subject echoes Who!

POLICE COURT.

Before Judge Rucker. Business was light yesterday morning but the time consumed in hearing to it was long enough to dispose of a regiment of cases!

Thomas Mooney was arrested by officer Grant the previous afternoon for stealing a pair of pants from one James McGraw on board the Canal boat Emerald. No witness appearing against him to sustain the allegation, he was discharged.

John Shaw and his wife Elizabeth, were the victims of a neighborhood quarrel, which was made worse in consequence of the defendants being drunk occasionally, and creating a noise and disturbing others in the same house. John was fined $5 with costs of the suit, and advised to quit the vicinity if he desires peace.

Frederic H. Moore, was drunk during Wednesday night, and fell into the river near a shed on which whence he was taken at 6 o'clock next morning, by the Watch. He pleaded ignorance of his freaks during the night, but the officers remembered the circumstances well and notwithstanding Fred said he is a constable residing 10 miles out of the city he was fined $2.
